

CRASH Privacy Policy

Collision Resources and Statistics Help - CRASH is a web app designed to facilitate better understanding of automobile accidents in the state of Utah. This privacy policy will explain how our site uses the personal data we collect.

Topics:

- What data do we collect?
- How do we collect your data?
- How will we use your data?
- How do we store your data?
- What are your data protection rights?
- What are cookies?
- How do we use cookies?
- How to manage your cookies
- Privacy policies of other websites
- Changes to our privacy policy
- How to contact us
- How to contact the appropriate authorities

What data do we collect?

CRASH collects the following data:

- CRASH-specific online identifier data (User ID, Username, Password, Admin Status)

How do we collect your data?

You directly provide CRASH with all of the data we collect. We collect data and process data when you:

- Register for an account on CRASH.

How will we use your data?

CRASH collects your data so that we can:

- Keep track of our users.
- Know which users have admin permissions and which do not.

How do we store your data?

CRASH securely stores your data with Amazon Web Services RDS. AWS holds complete responsibility for maintaining the integrity and safety of the physical aspects of the machines with your data. CRASH will never share your data with anyone.

What are your data protection rights?

CRASH would like to make sure you are fully aware of all of your data protection rights.

Every user is entitled to the following:

- The right to access - You have the right to request CRASH for copies of your personal data.
- The right to rectification - You have the right to request that CRASH correct any information you believe is inaccurate. You also have the right to request CRASH to complete information you believe is incomplete.
- The right to erasure - You have the right to request that CRASH erase your personal data.
- The right to restrict processing - You have the right to request that CRASH restrict the processing of your personal data, under certain conditions.
- The right to object to processing - You have the right to object to CRASH's processing of your personal data.
- The right to data portability - You have the right to request that CRASH transfer the data that we have collected to another organization, or directly to you.

If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you. If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact us at our email: bt323@byu.edu

What are cookies?

Cookies are text files placed on your computer to collect standard Internet log information and visitor behavior information. When you visit our websites, we may collect information from you automatically through cookies or similar technology.

For further information, visit allaboutcookies.org.

How do we use cookies?

CRASH uses cookies in a range of ways to improve your experience on our website, including:

- Keeping you signed in

How to manage cookies

You can set your browser not to accept cookies, and the above website tells you how to remove cookies from your browser. However, in a few cases, some of our website features may not function as a result.

Privacy policies of other websites

The CRASH website contains links to other websites. Our privacy policy applies only to our website, so if you click on a link to another website, you should read their privacy policy.

Changes to our privacy policy

CRASH keeps its privacy policy under regular review and places any updates on this web page. This privacy policy was last updated on 5 April 2022.

How to contact us

If you have any questions about CRASH's privacy policy, the data we hold on you, or you would like to exercise one of your data protection rights, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Email us at: bt323@byu.edu

How to contact the appropriate authority

Should you wish to report a complaint or if you feel that Our Company has not addressed your concern in a satisfactory manner, you may contact the Information Commissioner's Office.

Email: bt323@byu.edu